

Ivy Green

Ivy Green, a small cottage in Tusculum, rivals many of the most magnificent palaces and mansions in the world in the only categories which really count—what lived in the house and what was done there.

Here Helen Keller was born more than 85 years ago. Only two years old when stricken by an illness which left her blind and deaf, Helen won the first rounds of her battle against darkness and silence on the grounds of this northwest Alabama home.

Helen was seven years old before she spoke her first word, standing beside a well with her teacher Anne Sullivan, she learned to say "water."

Five letters of the alphabet have seldom had more impact on the world: This word inspired millions of blind, deaf or afflicted people to overcome their handicaps.

This well is still standing at Ivy Green, along with much of the home's original furniture. So is "Whistle Path" where Helen walked from the house to the outdoor kitchen.

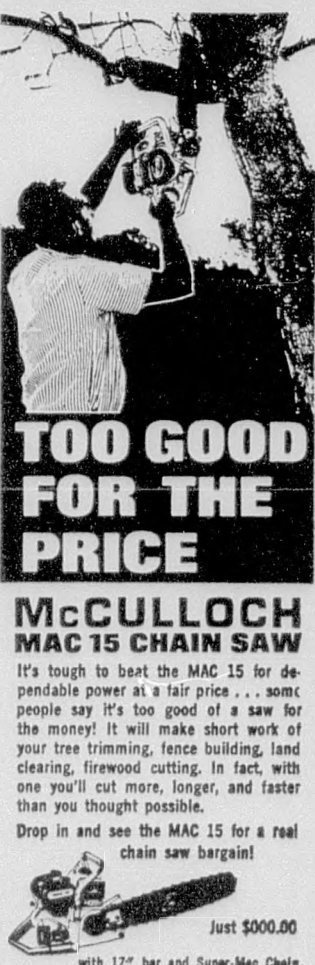

Ivy Green was built in 1820 by Miss Keller's grandfather. It typifies simple Southern life of another era. Mimosa, sparrow oak, magnolia, lilac, jasmine and English ivy thrive around the clapboard cottage.

Tusculum relives the remarkable feats of Helen Keller during the months of July and August when a local theater group presents "The Miracle Worker" on the grounds of the birthplace.

HEART ATTACKS

If your blood pressure is high, your doctor can help you bring it down and reduce your risk of heart attack, Alabama Heart Association advises. Coronary risk goes up when blood pressure is elevated.

A quarter of a million people in the United States who died of coronary disease in the past year never reached their score and ten, your Alabama Heart Association reports. They died too young, between the ages of 25 and 44.

Enroll For Medicare

Mr. Harry N. Scott, social security district manager in Dothan, says that more than 17,000,000 Americans over 65 know a bargain when they see one. That's how many people have elected to take advantage of Medicare's medical insurance program. These millions realize that at $3.00 a month they are getting protection against medical bills at a price that can't be beaten, since 50 percent of the cost is paid by the Federal Government. The basic hospital insurance program under Medicare, which provides hospital and related care, is offered without cost to people over 65.

However, Mr. Scott had a word of warning for people enrolled in the new Medicare plan.

"Do not cancel your present health insurance policy until July 1, 1966, when the Medicare law becomes effective." Further, he cautioned those who are not yet eligible for Medicare to continue their private health insurance until they become eligible.

Mr. Scott suggested that prospective Medicare beneficiaries ask at the social security office for pamphlet OASI-35, a summary of the benefits provided by social security. In addition, he suggested that each individual check with his private health insurance agent in preparation for the transition to the social security Medicare program.

They then saw a link trainer demonstration, followed by a static display at Hooper Stagesfield of Army aircraft.

After lunch, the boys rode in a CH-47 Chinook at Knox Stagesfield and then visited the Army Aviation Museum before standing retreat.

The evening itinerary included swimming at The Aviation Center pool and a campout at Beaver Lake. Friday they spent the day at a survival training demonstration, learning how a person can live off animals, reptiles and plants if necessary.

The Scouts departed Ft. Rucker Friday at 5 p.m.

The Best from DEL MONTE

J. M. MARLER, of Route 2, Elba, killed this six foot rattler Tuesday afternoon, June 21, about 3:30 while driving through the Goodman Community.

The rattler was crossing the highway and Marler ran over him, stopped and jumped out with a 22 caliber pistol in his hand and was met by a very mad snake that put him right back in the truck.

Marler left to borrow a shotgun but couldn't find anyone at home, so he returned to the scene and found the rattler had coiled in the roots of a large oak. He then shot the large diamondback several times with the 22 and battered its head with a stick. The rattles were shot off, but about a dozen were found and they were all the same size, indicating that many more were there at one time.

Marler is the Typhus Control Agent for Coffee County.

Burning Lights

Are Holiday

Safety Symbol

The burning headlights on motor vehicles will be the symbol of safety for July 4th holidays in Alabama.

This "Lights On For Safety" program, jointly sponsored by the Alabama

Department of Public Safety and the Alabama Trucking Association, is a means of reducing traffic accidents and a reminder to focus attention of drivers on the need for safe driving during the traditionally dangerous holiday weekend.

Motorists are requested to turn on their headlights while in motion from 6:00 P.M., Friday, July 1st, until Tuesday, July 5th.

Public Safety Director Colonel C. W. Russell called attention to the fact that each year there is a tremendous and unnecessary loss of lives on Alabama's highways through accidents involving motor vehicles during periods when so many more families are on the road.

Teen Club

Successful

In Elba

A wonderful thing happened in Elba several months ago when the local teenagers formed a Teen Club to plan wholesome activities for all the Elba teenagers.

The most popular of these activities has been the Saturday night dance that is attended by so many teenagers that the club has been able to attract bands that demand as much as $150 a night. The funds for these bands come from the small charge imposed on the teenagers by the teenagers.

All the planning and management is done by the teenagers themselves and they do the cleaning of the club building themselves on a volunteer basis. Many of the parents have acted as the weekly chaperones and these and others who drop in on their children's "creation" just shake their head at the "modern dancing" and go home content that their youngsters are safely enjoying themselves with good wholesome recreation and are not out on the highways or involved in many other unhealthy activities that "just happen alone" when young energy has no outlet. Any parent is invited to drop in and see the Elba Teen Club at any time.

Those who are distressed with "this younger generation" need only to see how these Elba youngsters have planned, executed and governed their own activities to know that all is not lost in Elba, Alabama.

Wreck Claims

Life Of

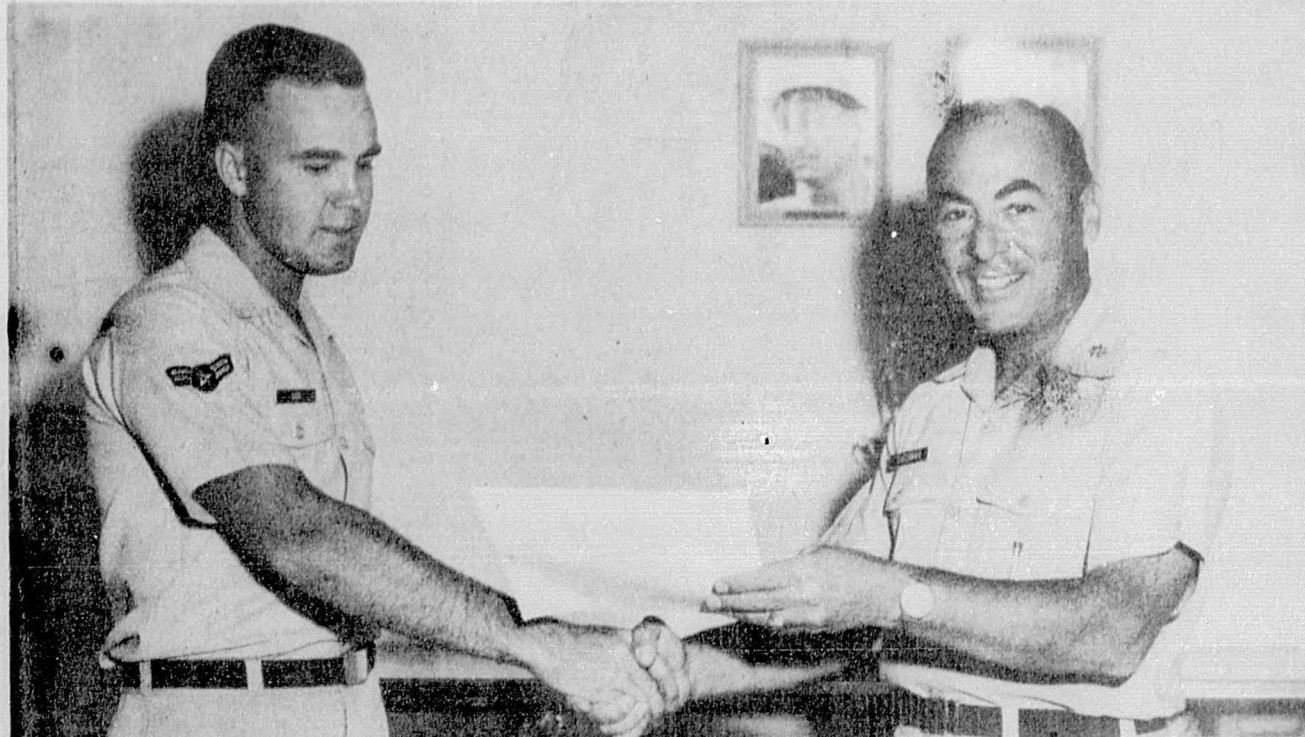

Teenager

A two-car collision between New Brockton and Enterprise claimed the life of 16-year-old Ruth McDermott Monday. She was in a car driven by her sister, Mrs. Iris M. Hartley.

Mrs. Hartley's car struck head-on with a car driven by Robert B. Sewell of Dothan, who was reportedly trying to pass another car when he collided with Hartley's auto. Sewell was hospitalized with internal injuries but was listed in fair condition in a Dothan hospital.

Mrs. Hartley, who suffered lacerations and a broken kneecap, and her two daughters Diana and Leslie age 3 and 5, who suffered lacerations and abrasions.

Miss McDermott was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. McDermott of New Brockton.

A.C. HAROLD C. CAIN, son of Mrs. Katherine L. Harper of Elba, was selected Airmen of the Month for the month of April at Holloman Air Base, New Mexico. Cain outstandingly performed his duties as an administrative clerk in the

Dr. McLeod Warns Of Rabies Danger

This Week

Congressman Jim

Martin, Republican

candidate for governor, will visit Elba this Saturday afternoon. He will arrive at the Elba airport at 2:00 P.M.,

Saturday, and will be at the courthouse until 2:30. The public is invited to meet with Congressman

Martin.

A motorcade will then travel to New Brockton and from there to a coffee at the Community Center, in Enterprise, from 3:30 to 4:30. He will be in Enterprise from 4:30 until after 5 o'clock.

The picture usually associated with rabid dogs in which there is drooling from the mouth, snarling, and unnatural stance of gait, does not appear until the disease is in its final stages. This is why it is important that an animal which has bitten someone be captured and confined for observation to determine if it actually has rabies.

In humans the time between being bitten by a rabid animal and the onset of symptoms is also variable. Symptoms can occur within ten days or as long as seven months. Once symptoms have appeared, however, the disease is ALWAYS fatal.

The important thing to remember is to get proper medical attention quickly. Treatment is most effective when started as soon as possible after it has been determined that the attacking animal was diseased by rabies. Every effort should be made to locate the animal because if it is not rabid, there is no need for the anti-rabies treatment. A person who is bitten should try to give as complete a description as possible of the animal and the situation under which he was attacked to aid in location and capture.

Beware Of Sunburn When You Visit The Beach This Summer

"Let's go to the beach!" With that suggestion most of us have wonderful visions of sand, sun, and surf, but forget what's most important—beach safety.

A well-equipped first aid kit is a necessity on any kind of outing, whether it's to the beach or a trip across the country. First aid kit essentials include: bandages, gauze, cotton swabs, an astringent, a scissor, razor blades, first aid cream and, of course, sunburn lotion.

These kits are available at any drug store at reasonable prices. But you can make your own by using an old cigar box.

Don't forget how badly you sunburned last year. Condition yourself by sunbathing a few minutes at a time before you head for the beach.

A final reminder—remember the two basic rules of water safety. Never swim alone and always swim where a lifeguard is present.

Lack Of Oxygen Hurts Fish Supply

Insufficient oxygen and poor management are causing a fish die-off in many Alabama farm ponds this spring.

All causes of fish die-off are still unknown, says Earl F. Kenamer, Extension Fish and Wildlife Specialist, but oxygen depletion is probably the most frequent.

Cruising around the pond with an outboard motor boat for a few hours may solve the problem by creating wave action which absorbs needed oxygen from the air.

Another known cause of fish die-off, added the Auburn University specialist, is concentration of silt in ponds. This can be partially corrected by especially pesticides, are keeping the water shed also a danger to farm area in permanent vegetation. Agricultural chemicals, calls dangerous to fish should never be planted on a water shed.

The largest medical center in the world is the District Medical Center in Chicago, which covers 478 acres and includes five hospitals, with a total of 5,000 beds, and eight professional schools with over 3,000 students.

The Elba Business & Professional Women's Club met at the City Recreation Center on Monday night, June 13. This was the annual picnic meeting.

Mrs. Myrtle Sellers, the club president, conducted a brief business session. Mrs. Mable Lawless, finance chairman, gave a report on the sale of cook books.

After the meal, Mrs. Bogwell directed a "Hula Contest". Mrs. Marilyn Steinmetz won first prize.

Mrs. Marguerite Hobart, second and Mrs. Nellie Martin, third.

The "Blast Furnace Blowers", a singing group from the Dothan Clubs entertained with original songs composed in honor of officers of The Alabama Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs. The group sang at the State Convention held in Mobile.

An evening of fellowship was enjoyed by the following: Daphne Davis, Cook and Eloise Womack from the Ashford Club; Sadie Dean, Julia Segor, Marilyn Steinmetz and Marguerite Hobart from Dothan Club; and Gladys Hagler from the Dothan League; Myrtle Sellers, Nellie Martin, Wayne Boswell, Mable Lawless, Lula Mae Harper and Zelma Devane.

The guests enjoyed cake, ice cream, punch and

Dr. Morris Chafetz, professor of psychiatry at Harvard, is director of the alcoholic clinic of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. He is author of two books about drinking, "Alcohol and Society" and "The Servant of Man". He has proposed that children in the early grades at school be given group instruction in social drinking. He says this should begin with very weak drinks such as a little sherry in water in the elementary grades, and continue through college. The amount of alcohol in this "practice drinking" should be gradually increased. The children should be taught to drink slowly in small amounts, and with other persons. He believes this would facilitate social relations, relaxation and a feeling of well being. He thinks they should also be instructed on the hazards of the improper use of alcohol.

Dr. Chafetz says that "alcohol is here to stay and people must learn to develop a healthy attitude toward it." Sex is here to stay too, and children should be taught about it, but certainly not experimentally, beginning "in the early grades at school."

Dope is here to stay, but surely small children should not be given small shots of heroin. Stealing and cheating are here to stay but should children be given lessons in these evils as a means of promoting temperance in their use of them?

We believe the professor is wrong. Children, and adults as well, should be taught to abstain from anything evil and not merely to temperate in the use of it. It is silly, in my opinion to advocate narcotizing one's self in order to promote social relationships. A normal, properly adjusted adult can relax and enjoy friendship without the use of alcohol or any other drug to suppress his higher nerve centers.

To resort to drugs to control emotion is to come down from the spiritual plane, where proper control lies, into the physical plane to partly paralyze one's nerves. Inhibitions, judgment and restraint are proper attributes of man. We all need them. To knock them out with the use of drugs so that one feels well because he has paralyzed his sensitivity to the delicate shades of the proper and the improper, and by the throwing off of restraint is for man to abandon his spiritual being in part, and to retrograde toward his animal nature. That is easy enough for any of us to do, without the help of alcohol.

WHAT A GRANDMOTHER IS

A grandmother is a lady who has no children of her own, so she likes other people's little girls. A grandfather is a man grandmother. He goes for walks with the boys, and they talk about fishing and tractors and like that.

Grandmas don't have to do anything except be there. They're old, so they shouldn't play hard or run. It is enough if they drive us to the market where the pretend horse is and have lots of dimes ready. Or if they take us for walks, they should slow down past things like pretty leaves or caterpillars. They should never, ever say "Hurry up."

Usually they are fat, but not too fat to the kids' shoes. They wear glasses and funny underwear. They can take their teeth and gums off.

It is better if they don't typewrite, or play cards except with us. They don't have to be smart, only answer questions like why dogs hate cats and how come God isn't married. They don't talk baby talk like visitors do, because it is hard to understand. When they read to us they don't skip or mind if it is the same story again.

Everybody should try to have one, especially if you don't have television, because grandmas are the only grownups who have got time. Catholic Digest

THE TREE Climbers

Thought about climbing any trees lately? The tree climbers seem to belong to a very young segment of the population.

Why do you suppose most of us have outgrown that compelling urge to climb a tree? It used to make every trunk a challenge, every limb a precarious perch.

Well, we've discovered other challenges. And we've had our fill of precarious perches. Eventually a man turns his zest for triumph to more constructive purposes.

But, have you observed that many people seem to climb above the tiresome every-day level of life? And, strangely, they appear more secure challenging the roof of existence than those who cling to its floor.

The youthful compulsion which once made us tree climbers reaches maturity on a spiritual plane. Our God-given zest for triumph finds fulfillment in the quest of religious Faith... the challenge of Christian living! Start climbing next Sunday... in church!

FARM NEWS

By Tom Casaday, County Extension Chairman

ALL-BREED
Several breeders and Extension workers met in Geneva a few nights ago to discuss the Annual South Alabama All-Breed Hog Sale. This is the sale which has been held in Elba each year. The American Legion barn has blown down and it appears that the sale will be held elsewhere this year.

Carlton Barnes, a Hampshire breeder, of Rt. 2, Enterprise, attended along with Hill Wise and several other breeders. This sale which is tentatively scheduled for October 28 will give our commercial hog folks an opportunity to buy some good stock.

4-H FOUNDATION
Coffee County is receiving $351 this year as a result of our 4-H Foundation Funds to be used for awards, training programs, and other events to strengthen 4-H Club Work.

4-H Club members now and in the future are going to benefit greatly through this program to which some 600 Coffee County people contributed. Every time an award is made I remember the excellent work done by so many leaders and contributors.

CORN
Bowdoin Sessions, of Rt. 1, Samson, has some of the best corn we have seen. Sessions works at Ft. Rucker and manages a 75 head herd of brood cows and several brood sows. Needless to say, he is fully employed with his farm and Ft. Rucker work. He is interested in his youngest daughter, Anita, feeding a couple calves for the 4-H Beef Calf Show.

BETTER BREEDING STOCK
James Wise, of Fairview, has recently bought about 1 dozen outstanding purebred herefords in Mississippi to add to his herd. James graduated from Auburn several years ago and is in the beef cattle business full-time. Other cattle producers in the county are also making headway in building up their herds.

GOOD RESPONSE
We are getting a good response from hog producers planning to attend the Hog Shortcourse which begins Tuesday night, June 28, at the courthouse in Elba. We would like to have 100 growers attend all 4 sessions of this shortcourse which will be held the nights of June 28, July 5, July 12, and July 19, a timely display in the If you didn't get a letter about this shortcourse, let us know and we will enroll you.

COUNCIL MEETING SET FOR FRIDAY
The Elba City Council will meet Friday night, July 1st, instead of the regular Monday meeting which falls on July 4th.

COFFEE COUNTY GOP workers welcomed Congressman Jim Martin, candidate for Governor of Alabama, to Coffee County last Saturday and, following a round of speech-making and coffees, honored him with a invitation-only dinner at the Enterprise County Club Saturday night. This affair was attended by 63 people.

Zoysia Grass In Alabama Contacts Rust

If your zoysia lawn has a red appearance in places, chances are it's infected with "rust."

This fungus disease is new to Alabama; although, it has been reported in Florida several years, says Dr. States M. McCarter, Extension Service pathologist and nematologist.

The weather this year has been ideal for rust diseases in general, and is partly responsible for the prevalence of this rust disease, which has been reported throughout the state.

"One symptom to look for is the presence of red, powdery masses on grass blades. These fungus spores are so abundant that they often cover lawn areas."
